Histotechnology Professionals Day 10th March 2022

Histotechnology Professionals Day is a day to raise awareness of the importance of Histotechnology in the diagnosis of disease and to celebrate the incredible people within the industry internationally.

Use the day to show your love of Histology and acknowledge the hard work, passion and dedication of the people in your lab, company or learning institution.

Don't forget to share pictures of your celebrations to our social media pages and for publication in the Histogram:
